

StudyJesus.com presents Heart For God

There is a time when a true believer in Jesus Christ needs to be different living among unbelievers. However, the way for those of us who are children of God to begin making a difference in our neighborhood is not by preaching a sermon but by loving our families. The way to begin making a difference where we work is not to pass out literature but to be the one who volunteers for what no one else wants to do. The way to make a difference in our communities is to care for the lonely, the hurting, and the needy while seeking to save the lost.

Because we cannot do it all, does not mean we should not do something. Just because we cannot help all the hungry, doesn't mean we can't help some. Just because we cannot love and help our whole neighborhood, does not mean we cannot love and help a few. Let us think about that as our church family searches for those to serve. Let us think about that as we go throughout our community. Just because we cannot touch everybody, does not mean we cannot reach out and touch a few.

These Bible study outlines seek to focus on the qualities needed in a heart devoted to and living for God. They are designed especially for Christians who are not of this world, yet who want to make a difference for God in their communities and neighborhoods.
